

Results of Administrative Corruption Investigation by Agency Against Corruption (AAC) of the Ministry of Justice (MOJ)

Data Period: March of 2024

To meet the public's expectations for anti-corruption work and increase trust in the government, the Agency Against Corruption (AAC), Ministry of Justice, directed government employee ethics units of different levels to take disciplinary actions against public servants who: are being investigated for illegal activities, have committed administrative violations, or have violated the Integrity and Ethics Direction for Public Servants for non-corruption crimes. The purpose of such efforts is to prevent corruption by ensuring public servants' legal awareness and compliance with the law.

For March of 2024, AAC handled in total 4 cases of administrative corruption investigation, in terms of business categories there were 1 case of Administrative Affairs, 1 case of Police Department, 1 case of Judicial, 1 case of Construction, 1 case of Education and 1 case of Environmental Protection;

Officer Levels of the Staff Punished: 1 senior staff, 2 executive staff, 2 assistant staff, and 1 contract staff, with a total of 6 persons;

Punishment Results: Dismissal (including dismissal and suspension) to 2 persons and reprimand to 4 persons.