

Can I directly file an "external disclosure"?

If you are a civil servant

Government Agency
(Institution)

State-Owned Enterprises

Government-controlled Enterprises, Groups, or Institutions

Or you work in the pan-public sector

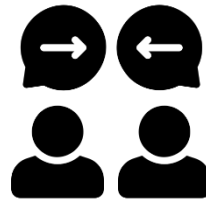

Or your company has an employment, commissioned work, appointment, dispatch, contracting, special agreements, or other contractual relationships with the pan-public sector

Corruption and malfeasance

Harboring
criminals

Conflicts of interest

Illegal
procurement

Damage
public welfare

When you discover that personnel in the pan-public sector have violated the law

Elected representatives at the central or local governments

Media outlets
that have registered their business

Public welfare
organizations that are registered as legal persons

Once you decide to file an external disclosure

When external personnel or legal person receive a disclosure, they must forward it to the agency responsible for receiving whistleblowing reports within 10 days

If the agency responsible for receiving whistleblowing reports verifies a disclosure to be true

Protection will be provided retroactively to the time you made the external disclosure
