

Results of Administrative Corruption Investigation by Agency Against Corruption (AAC) of the Ministry of Justice (MOJ)

Data Period: January of 2026

To meet the public's expectations for anti-corruption work and increase trust in the government, the Agency Against Corruption (AAC), Ministry of Justice, directed government employee ethics units of different levels to take disciplinary actions against public servants who: are being investigated for illegal activities, have committed administrative violations, or have violated the Integrity and Ethics Direction for Public Servants for non-corruption crimes. The purpose of such efforts is to prevent corruption by ensuring public servants' legal awareness and compliance with the law.

For January of 2026, AAC handled in total 4 cases of administrative corruption investigation, in terms of business categories there were 2 cases of Environmental Protection, 1 case of Legal, 1 case of Administrative Affairs.

Officer Levels of the Staff Punished: 2 executive staff, and 2 contract and hired staff, with a total of 4 persons;

Punishment Results: Demerits to 3 persons, and reprimand to 1 person.